
Supplementary Figure 1 Sensitive analysis of the association of diabetic retinopathy and cognitive impairment. Each study corresponds to a horizontal line and a circle. The circle represents the pooled estimate of the other studies after omitting the given named study, and the length of the horizontal line represents the 95% confidence interval.